

Rising 5th Grade Summer Reading

Happy summer! I hope you have a great break. Sustained independent reading is an integral part of the fifth grade curriculum. Next year, you will be expected to read 30 minutes each night for your homework and maintain a weekly reading log. While on summer break, you are expected to read a minimum of three books. Think about it as a book a month. Reading 30 minutes each weekday will keep you on track!

You may choose any books you'd like, as long as they challenge you! Try different genres. Refer to the lists on the links below or feel free to email me for a recommendation.

For all one of your summer reading books, please complete the Character Head journal activity in this folder. Please bring your project with you on the first day of school!

Happy reading! Have a fantastic summer break.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Stowers

mstowers@grymesschool.org

Good Reads List:

<https://www.goodreads.com/shelf/show/5th-grade-reading-list>

American Library Association List:

<https://www.ala.org/ala/alsc/alscresources/booklists/MiddleSchoolReads.htm>